SYNTHETIC GENESIS

EXT. CITY STREET - NIGHT

The night sweeps through a rain-soaked city, neon lights flickering in an oppressive darkness. The streets are cluttered with debris, casting long shadows. Distant wails of despair echo through the alleyways.

SEREN (V.O.)
(off-screen, somber)
This city is dying—a twisted muse of what it once was. Now it suffocates in decay. The bones of the past lie scattered in the streets, and those who remain scavenge for whatever scraps they can find.

SEREN (30s), a Synthetic detective, stands under a flickering streetlamp, face marked by weariness and shadows of guilt. Watches, as a YOUNG CHILD in a tattered red coat laughs while running, but the laughter is short-lived.

The child turns and heads toward a BURNING BUILDING, flames licking the sides.

SEREN (V.O.)
(off-screen)
A fleeting moment of innocence in a world that's forgotten how to hope.

Suddenly, the child disappears into the flames.

SEREN (V.O.)
(off-screen)
What have we become?

Seren turns away from the fire, a sense of helplessness washing over, eyes filled with a haunting emptiness.

EXT. DARK ALLEY - NIGHT

Seren steps into a dark alley, the smell of decay heavy in the air. He approaches a group of starving individuals, their eyes hollow, clutching makeshift bowls for scraps.

SEREN
What do you have for me?

HOMELESS MAN #1
Synthetics are disappearing...

SEREN
You've seen Astra?

The figure nods, trembling, glancing over his shoulder as if afraid of being watched.

HOMELESS MAN #2
I saw her taken. They said it was PARAGONS. You hear that? Sounds like a bunch of horse shit to me but they're coming for everyone.

Seren's expression hardens.

SEREN
(low)
I'll find her. Stay the hell hidden.

The figure looks relieved but fearful, retreating further into the shadows.

EXT. BACK ALLEY - NIGHT

Seren navigates the dark alleyways, following leads on missing Synthetics. Rain pours heavily, masking the city's sounds. The flickering lights cast unsettling shadows, creating a claustrophobic atmosphere.

Reaching into a narrow passage where a struggle can be heard. Seren pulls out his gun, moving cautiously.

SEREN (V.O.)
The echoes of the past haunt these streets. But tonight, seems like I'm hunting the living.

He find RHEA (20s), a Synthetic sex bot, cornered by rough-looking individuals.

RHEA
(voice shaking)
Please, don't!

SEREN
(shouting)
Get away from her!

As the ATTACKERS turn, Seren takes a step forward, gun raised, eyes focused, heart racing.

EXT. ABANDONED FACILITY - NIGHT

The action spills into an old facility, dust swirling in the air as the door creaks open. The atmosphere is thick with tension, shadows dancing across the walls.

SEREN
Let her go.

The attackers close in, ripping the skin from her breasts, revealing metal underneath, taunting Rhea, who looks terrified. Suddenly, one of the attackers shoves Rhea to the ground, their intentions clear.

SEREN (CONT'D)
(furious)
Get your fucking hands off her, you scum!

In an instant, Seren rushes forward, tackling one of the attackers to the ground. Rhea watches in shock, fear mingling with something deeper—perhaps gratitude.

ATTACKER #1
(conflicted)
Why do you care? She's no good.
Nothing but street end dumpster made prostitute. Manufactured that's all she is.
(to Rhea)
You think you're better than us?
You're just a piece of metal!

RHEA
(breathing hard)
I'm more than that!

Just as the fight intensifies, one of the attackers lunges at Rhea. Seren reacts instinctively, pushing her aside.

SEREN (low)
No!

In a brutal moment, Rhea is struck down by the attacker.

INT. ABANDONED FACILITY - NIGHT

The fight escalates further, and the remaining attackers retreat, their confidence shaken by the sudden turn of events. Rhea lies on the ground, visibly hurt, while Seren kneels beside her.

SEREN (voice cracking)
What have I done?

RHEA
You... didn't have to save me.

SEREN
But I did.

The reality of the moment crashes down—this world takes lives without thought.

Seren's eyes are filled with anguish, There is no god to blame.

As the remaining attackers disappear into the shadows, Rhea's eyes blaze with a new fire, filled with anger and determination.

RHEA
They think they can just take what they want. We can't let this go unpunished.

Seren looks at her, understanding dawning on him.

SEREN
It's not worth it.

RHEA
But it can stop them from doing it again. You've seen what they're capable of!

Seren stands, conflicted, but visibly affected by her words. He paces, running a hand through his hair, weighing his options.

SEREN

I'm not doing this for you.

RHEA

You're a Synthetic, just like me.

The weight of her words hits him, and a flicker of determination ignites.

SEREN

We are not the same. Get that through the tiny components in your head.

Rhea watches him, a mix of hope and concern in her eyes

SEREN (CONT'D)

I'll find them.

RHEA

Just... be careful.

INT. SEREN'S APARTMENT - NIGHT

Seren enters his small, dimly lit apartment. The walls are covered with case files, photos of missing Synthetics, and notes pinned to a bulletin board.

He moves to the board, scanning the information before picking up a photo of Astra.

SEREN

I'll find you.

He grabs a small bag, stuffing it with essentials—a gun, a data pad, and a few personal items. He hesitates, glancing at the photo again, a mix of guilt and anger on his face.

EXT. UNDERGROUND CLUB - NIGHT

Seren approaches a dive bar, neon lights flicker above the entrance, casting eerie shadows. Following a long corridor with passing grizzled faces, drugs and sex. The moans and techno music intertwine, as a swift hand of cards and credits flow through the room of smoke. It is a known hangout for those who deal in the underbelly of the city.

INT. UNDERGROUND CLUB - NIGHT

Inside, the atmosphere is thick with murmurs. Patrons sit huddled in booths, their faces half-hidden in shadows. Seren moves through the crowd, scanning for a familiar face.

He spots JAX (40s), a grizzled informant, sitting at the bar with a drink. Jax's face is lined with experience, a testament to the life he's lived. Seren approaches him, determination evident.

SEREN

Jax. I need information.

JAX

(looking up, smirking)

You always need something, don't you?

Jax gestures for Seren to sit.

SEREN

I'm looking for Paragons.
Specifically, their new targets.

sipping his drink

Brave move. You know what they did to Astra, right?

Seren's jaw tightens at the mention of Astra's name, the weight of loss hanging heavy between them.

SEREN

I know. That's why I need to find them.

JAX

Leans in

You're going after Paragons?
They're not just a gang; they're a bloody machine.

SEREN

I have to. They can't keep doing this. Not to anyone else.

JAX

(sighing)

Alright. I've got something for you. But you need to understand, once you step into their world, there's no going back.

Jax pulls out a small data chip, sliding it across the bar.

JAX (CONT'D)
This'll lead you to their warehouse on the outskirts. But they're expecting you.

Seren takes the chip.

SEREN
What else do I need to know?

JAX
(serious) They've been moving Synthetics to that warehouse. You're not just dealing with thugs; you're going up against a system that treats you like property.

Seren nods, pocketing the chip, and stands, resolute.

SEREN
I can handle it.

JAX
You think you can save everyone?

SEREN
I have to try.

EXT. RHEA'S SAFE HOUSE - NIGHT

Seren arrives at a dilapidated building, the paint peeling, and the windows cracked. It's clear this place has seen better days. Seren approaches the door and knocks.

RHEA
(from inside)
Who is it?

SEREN
It's me. Seren.

The door creaks open, revealing Rhea, still recovering from her injuries. She looks fragile but fierce, a fire burning in her eyes.

SEREN
Jax gave me a lead.. You really want to do this?

RHEA
Yes...

Alright.

SEREN

INT. RHEA'S SAFE HOUSE - NIGHT

The room is dimly lit, filled with maps and old photographs of Synthetics. Rhea spreads out the layout of the warehouse on the table.

RHEA
(pointing) Here's the entrance, but they have guards stationed outside. We'll need to find another way in.

squinting at the map

What about the back entrance?

RHEA
There's a maintenance door. If we can get to it, we might avoid the guards.

Seren looks at Rhea, admiration creeping into his expression.

SEREN
You've thought this through.

RHEA
I don't have much of a choice. Even for us, You don't survive in this world without a plan.

EXT. WAREHOUSE - NIGHT

The moon hangs low in the sky as Seren and Rhea approach the warehouse, cloaked in shadows. The building looms ominously, a stark reminder of the danger they face.

RHEA
This is it.

They find a hidden spot near the back entrance, watching as guards pace in and out of view.

RHEA (CONT'D)
(whispering)
We stick to the shadows. Move when they don't see us.

SEREN Right.

As they stealthily approach the door, Rhea's eyes flash with determination. She stops for a moment, looking at Seren.

RHEA
Remember, they're not just criminals. They're a system built on fear.

SEREN
I know what I'm up against.

They reach the maintenance door, and Seren carefully checks the lock.

SEREN (CONT'D)

It's locked.

Rhea glances around, then nods towards a tool belt strapped to her waist.

RHEA
I've got this.

She kneels down, pulling out a small device and working on the lock. Meanwhile, Seren keeps watch.

RHEA
Come on...

The lock clicks open, and Rhea looks up, a triumphant smile on her face.

RHEA (CONT'D)
Got it.

Seren pushes the door open, and they slip inside, hearts racing.

INT. WAREHOUSE - NIGHT

Seren and Rhea enter the warehouse cautiously. The dim lighting casts long shadows over crates and machinery.
The smell of oil and rust fills the air.

RHEA

There should be a control room up ahead.
That's where they'll have the data on Astra.

SEREN
We don't have time to waste. Stick close.

They move quickly, ducking behind cover as two guards pass by, their voices low, discussing something about "a new shipment." Seren clenches his jaw, feeling the weight of the mission pressing on him.

(overhearing)

The Paragons are really ramping up production.
I heard they're expecting another shipment of Synthetics by morning.

GUARD #2

(gruff)

Yeah, but these ones... they're different.
They've been modded. I wouldn't go near them.

SEREN

We need to get to that control room before they spot us.

INT. WAREHOUSE CONTROL ROOM - NIGHT

They reach the control room, the door slightly ajar.
Seren peers inside. It's dark except for a few flickering lights from old computer monitors.

RHEA

I'll hack the system. You keep watch.

Seren nods and positions himself by the door, gun in hand. Rhea moves to a terminal, her fingers deftly working on the keyboard. The sound of clacking keys echoes in the silence.

Suddenly, a loud noise comes from the hallway.
Seren tenses, readying his weapon.

SEREN

(gritting teeth)

We've got company. How much longer?

RHEA

Almost there... just a few more seconds.

INT. WAREHOUSE - HALLWAY OUTSIDE CONTROL ROOM

A pair of heavily armed guards approaches the control room. Their heavy boots thud against the floor. They're speaking to each other, but their words are indistinct.
The tension builds as they draw closer.

RHEA

(gasping)

Got it!

She pulls out a data chip, just as the control room door begins to creak open. Seren whirls around, gun raised.

SEREN
We need to move, now.

INT. WAREHOUSE - NIGHT

Seren and Rhea slip out of the control room just in time, avoiding the guards. They dart between crates, staying low. The data chip clutched tightly in Rhea's hand feels heavier now—they know they're running out of time.

SEREN (V.O.)
(off-screen)

Every step feels like a fucking gamble. Every breath, borrowed time. What other choice do we have?

They reach the back exit, but as they push through the door, a deafening alarm goes off.

RHEA
Shit! They've locked us in!

SEREN
I thought you had this under control!

RHEA
I did—there's no way they could've—

The sound of boots pounding the ground grows louder as guards begin to converge on their position.

EXT. WAREHOUSE - BACK LOT - NIGHT

Seren and Rhea burst through a small window into the back lot of the warehouse. Their movements are frantic. The night air is cold, and the sky above is dark, foreboding.

SEREN
We need to disappear. Fast.

INT. SAFEHOUSE - LATER

Back at Rhea's safehouse, they sit in silence, both catching their breath. The adrenaline is still pumping through their veins. Seren watches Rhea as she carefully inserts the data chip into her tablet.

RHEA
Let's see what we got.

The screen flickers to life, showing rows of encrypted data, names, and locations. One name stands out immediately: Astra.

SEREN
There she is...

RHEA
She's being moved tomorrow. We're running out of time.

SEREN
Then we stop them before they get a chance.

RHEA
But the location... it's not just another facility.

Seren leans forward, staring at the screen. His expression is unreadable, but tension radiates from him.

SEREN
Where are they taking her?

RHEA
(shakes head)
It's more than a transfer. The Paragons have something bigger planned--this place... it's off-grid. No data, no records. If they get her there, she's gone.

Seren clenches his jaw, feeling the weight of the situation.

SEREN
We need to stop them before they disappear her.

RHEA
We can't just rush in. They'll be expecting us. We need a plan, something that hits them hard.

Seren's eyes narrow as he looks at the chip.

SEREN
There's got to be something else here. More than just Astra's location.

Rhea glances at him, unsure, but nods. She plugs the chip back into her tablet, searching through the data.
For a moment, the room is silent except for the faint hum of the device.

RHEA
Wait... there's a file. It's encrypted. I almost missed it.

She taps the screen, working to break through the encryption. Seren watches, the air around them thick with anticipation. Suddenly, the file opens, revealing a series of video feeds—live surveillance.

The images show rows of Synthetics, all in various stages of shutdown. Some look like they're being disassembled. Others lie on tables, motionless, their eyes empty.

RHEA
(softly)
Oh my God...

Seren's face tightens as he watches the footage, his eyes scanning each screen.

SEREN
This isn't just about Astra. They're dismantling them.

RHEA
(panic rising)
It's worse than we thought. This isn't just another facility... this is a termination zone.

INT. CITY TRANSPORT HUB - NIGHT
Seren and Rhea weave through the shadows of a massive transport hub, the air filled with the distant hum of engines. Large freights are being loaded onto shuttles, but Seren and Rhea stay hidden, watching from the distance.

RHEA
This is it. The transport carrying Astra leaves in less than two hours.

SEREN
We can't let that shuttle leave.

They spot three guards patrolling the area, their heavy boots clanging against the metal floor. Seren sizes up the situation.

SEREN
You take the far side, I'll handle the closer one.

RHEA
Just don't get killed.

EXT. TRANSPORT DOCK - NIGHT
Seren moves swiftly through the shadows, taking down one of the guards with a quick, efficient strike. He pulls the body into the dark, his movements silent and precise.

On the far side, Rhea disables a security camera before knocking out another guard with a swift kick.

RHEA
We're clear.

Seren moves toward the transport shuttle, carefully scanning the area. As they approach the cargo doors, Rhea pulls out a small device, bypassing the lock.

The doors hiss open, revealing rows of Synthetics, all locked in stasis. Among them, Astra.

He steps forward, his breath catching as he sees her—motionless, her eyes closed, hooked up to a series of wires.

SEREN Astra...

RHEA
She's still alive... but barely.

Seren moves quickly, detaching the wires from Astra's body. His hands shake slightly as he works, but his expression is hard.

RHEA
We need to get her out of here, now.

Suddenly, the sound of footsteps echoes through the dock. Seren and Rhea freeze.

SEREN Move!

EXT. CITY STREETS - NIGHT

Seren and Rhea race through the streets, Astra slung over Seren's shoulder. The sounds of pursuit are behind them—guards shouting, vehicles roaring to life.

They dart into an alleyway, barely avoiding a spotlight sweeping across the street. Rhea presses herself against the wall, breathing heavily.

RHEA

They're not stopping. They'll keep coming.

SEREN

We'll make it. We have to.

INT. SAFEHOUSE - NIGHT

Back at the safehouse, Seren gently lays Astra down on a table. Rhea hooks her up to a monitor, checking her vitals.

RHEA

She's stable... but she's been through hell.

Seren stands over her, watching Astra's face. There's a mix of relief and guilt in his expression.

RHEA

(slowly)

She's... human?

He doesn't answer right away. His eyes are fixed on Astra's face, a mixture of relief and fear washing over him.

SEREN

That's why they took her.

Rhea stands back, watching him. The revelation shifts something in the room—a deepening of stakes that neither of them fully expected.

RHEA

She's the reason you've been fighting all this time.

Seren doesn't flinch. His face hardens, the weight of years of hiding the truth suddenly crashing down on him.

SEREN

(somber)

She saved me... back when I was just a tool for them.
She showed me what I was missing. And now... now they've made her a target.

Rhea looks at Astra, the shock of it settling in.

RHEA

They'll come for her, Seren.

Seren's fists clench.

SEREN

Then we make sure she's out of their reach. For good.

EXT. CITY STREETS - NIGHT

indifferent world. Seren and Rhea carry Astra through the shadows, moving quickly as the sound of distant sirens fills the air.

RHEA

They know she's gone. We're running out of time.

SEREN

We can't go back to the safehouse. We need to disappear.

Rhea glances at Astra, her humanity making their situation even more perilous.

RHEA

There's a place in the lower sectors... they won't look for us there. But we'll have to get through their patrols first.

SEREN

Then let's move.

INT. UNDERGROUND SECTOR - NIGHT

Seren and Rhea navigate the underground sector, weaving through tight alleys and rundown buildings. The few people they pass look away, avoiding eye contact.

RHEA

This place... it's forgotten. No one comes down here unless they have to.

SEREN

That's why we'll be safe. For now.

They approach a small, abandoned building tucked into the shadows. Rhea pushes the door open, revealing a cramped interior. It's nothing like the safehouse—barely livable—but it will have to do.

RHEA

(pulling Astra inside)

She'll be safe here for a bit, but we need to figure out our next move. They won't stop coming.

Seren lowers Astra onto a makeshift bed, his eyes never leaving her face. For a moment, the world outside seems to fall away.

SEREN

(softly)

I'm not letting them take you again.

Rhea watches from the corner, the weight of Seren's words settling in.

SEREN

They'll kill her if they find her. And they'll make an example of me for keeping her alive.

RHEA

Then we don't let them find her. We don't let them find us.

SEREN

It's not just that. Astra... she's more than a target to them. Something they can't control. Something they fear.

RHEA

What do you mean?

Seren steps closer to Astra, his gaze never leaving her.

SEREN

(slowly)

They see her as the bridge between what they are and what we are. She's human, but she didn't turn her back on us. She knows what we are, and she chose to stand with us.

RHEA

(quietly)

So she's dangerous... because she gives us hope.

SEREN

To them, hope is the greatest threat of all.

INT. UNDERGROUND SECTOR - NIGHT

Hours have passed. Rhea sits by the door, keeping watch, while Seren paces the room. The tension between them is thick, but it's no longer just about survival.

RHEA

(quietly)

What's the plan now?

Seren stops pacing, looking at her with a hard expression.

(grim)

Jax might help. He's got connections. But this won't be free.

Rhea watches him, weighing the risks. Finally, she nods.

RHEA

We don't have much choice.

INT. UNDERGROUND CLUB - NIGHT

Seren and Rhea move through the familiar low hum of conversation surrounding them. The tension in the air is thick—every face they pass is marked by weariness and suspicion.

They approach Jax, who's leaning against the bar, his usual drink in hand. He sees them coming, his expression unreadable.

JAX

I see you two are still alive. Thought you'd be halfway to the junkyard by now.

Seren doesn't waste time with pleasantries.

SEREN

We need help. Astra... she's human, Jax.

Jax raises an eyebrow, clearly caught off guard.

JAX

(hushed)

Human? You sure about that?

RHEA

She's different.

Jax eyes them for a moment, processing the weight of their words. He takes a long sip from his drink, then sets the glass down with a heavy clink.

JAX

That's a big problem. You realize what you're asking me to do, right?

Seren steps closer, his voice low and dangerous.

SEREN

You've got connections. You can get us what we need—supplies, weapons, maybe even safe passage out of the city.

JAX

(laughs darkly)

Safe passage? Out of the city? The Paragons are gonna have this place locked down the minute they realize she's gone.

Rhea steps forward, her voice urgent.

RHEA

We don't have time to debate this. They've already started hunting us. You help us, or you stay out of the way. But we're not waiting around.

Jax's smirk fades as he meets Rhea's eyes. For a moment, there's silence, tension filling the space between them.

JAX

Alright. I'll help you. But I want something in return.

Seren tenses, his fists clenching at his sides.

SEREN

What do you want?

JAX

When this is over, I want my piece of the pie. You save her, you bring me the data you pulled from whatever the hell they've got on her. That kind of information... that's power.

Rhea shoots a glance at Seren, unsure.

RHEA

This isn't about data.

JAX

Everything's about data, sweetheart. You want my help? That's the price.

SEREN

Fine. You'll get your data. Just get us what we need.

Jax nods, satisfied, but before he can speak, the door to the club slams open. A group of armed men—Paragon agents—barge in, their weapons drawn.

PARAGON AGENT #1

(shouting)

Everyone down! No one moves!

The entire club freezes...

JAX

Shit.

Rhea's eyes widen as she grabs Seren's arm.

RHEA

(urgent)

We need to get out of here!

But before they can move, the agents lock eyes with Seren and Rhea.

PARAGON AGENT #1

(pointing)

That's them! Take them!

Chaos erupts. Seren and Rhea draw their weapons as the agents move in, gunfire ringing out. The patrons scatter, diving for cover as the club descends into a firefight.

RHEA

(shouting)

We're outnumbered!

SEREN

(gritted teeth)

Get to the back exit!

They fight their way through the club, taking down agents as they move. Jax, caught in the crossfire, scrambles behind the bar, cursing under his breath.

(desperate)

You've got to be kidding me!

Seren fires off a shot, hitting one of the agents in the leg as they rush toward the back exit. Rhea ducks behind a table, narrowly avoiding a blast of gunfire.

SEREN

(shouting)

Now, Rhea!

She leaps up, darting for the exit as Seren covers her, the sound of gunfire echoing behind them. They burst through the back door, running into the night.

EXT. ALLEYWAY - NIGHT

Seren and Rhea sprint down the dark alley, their breaths heavy, the sounds of pursuit growing behind them.

RHEA

(breathless)

That was too close!

SEREN

(angry)

They knew we'd be there. Someone tipped them off.

Rhea looks back toward the club, realization dawning on her.

RHEA

(flatly)

It was Jax.

Seren's face darkens. There's no doubt in his mind.

RHEA

(panicked)

They're everywhere!

Jax, crouched behind the bar, is scrambling to reload his weapon, his smirk from earlier wiped clean by pure panic. His eyes dart around the room, calculating his next move, but it's clear—he's in over his head.

JAX

(shouting)

I didn't sign up for this shit!

Suddenly, a Paragon agent rounds the corner and fires a shot straight at Jax. The bullet strikes him in the head, and his body jerks back violently, collapsing to the floor. Blood splatters across the bar, and the look of shock never leaves his face.

RHEA

(stunned)

Oh my God...

Seren barely registers Jax's death as he pulls Rhea by the arm.

SEREN

(coldly)

Move! We don't have time!

The Paragon agents push deeper into the club, taking down anyone in their path. Seren and Rhea duck behind a booth as a table shatters from gunfire nearby.

RHEA

(whispers, shaken)

Jax... they just killed him.

(tense)

That's what they do. Let's go!

The sound of shattering glass and more gunfire fills the air as they sprint toward the back exit. A few of Jax's crew are caught in the crossfire, their bodies hitting the ground as the Paragons ruthlessly clear the room.

EXT. ALLEYWAY - NIGHT

Seren and Rhea burst out of the club, running through the dark alley as the sounds of chaos continue behind them. They don't stop until they're deep in the shadows, far from the scene.

RHEA

(breathless)

They're not just chasing us. They're hunting us.

SEREN

(focused)

Jax is gone. We're on our own now.

RHEA

(panicked)

We don't stand a chance against them like this.

Seren's face hardens, but there's a flicker of uncertainty in his eyes. They keep moving, disappearing into the night.

INT. PARAGON COMMAND CENTER - NIGHT

The Paragons regroup in the wreckage of the club. One of the agents, AGENT KELLER, surveys the aftermath with a cold, detached expression.

AGENT KELLER

(calmly)

Clean this up. We've made our point.

The other agents move to sweep the area, dragging bodies out and clearing the debris. Keller watches as they dispose of Jax's body, his lips curling into a grim smile.

INT. PARAGON COMMAND CENTER - INTERROGATION ROOM - NIGHT

The room is dimly lit, sterile, and cold, filled with ominous technology. SEREN is strapped to a mechanical chair, his frail figure illuminated by flickering screens displaying stark imagery of a perfectly organized society, free of chaos.

AGENT KELLER, a cold and imposing figure, stands in front of him, a grim smile on his lips.

AGENT KELLER

(leaning closer)

Do you understand why you're here, Seren? Your fight is futile. The future is being rewritten, and those who resist will find themselves... irrelevant.

Seren's eyes widen, the flicker of fear evident in their depths as he fights to maintain his composure.

SEREN

(voice trembling)

Please... you don't have to do this. I'm not your enemy.

Keller steps back, a sardonic chuckle escaping him, noticing the slight quiver in Seren's voice.

AGENT KELLER

Astra? The Synthetic you cling to? She's nothing but an anomaly in our designs—a glitch that threatens to unravel everything we've built.

Keller gestures to the screens, which flash images of a flawless society devoid of human flaws and disorder.

Imagine a world where chaos is eliminated, where every element functions in perfect harmony.

The room hums ominously. SEREN strains against his bindings, and the mechanical restraints tighten painfully, causing a wince of discomfort mixed with fear.

You see, we can make this easy for you. Just tell me what you know about her.

SEREN

(breathless, panic rising)

I don't know anything! Please, I won't betray her. You can't take that away from me!

Keller's demeanor shifts, becoming more threatening, sensing Seren's fear.

AGENT KELLER

(smirking)

Do you really think you're protecting her?

What if I told you that Rhea could face the same fate as countless others? We eliminate what disrupts the balance.

SEREN

(panicking)

You can't! You won't!

Keller activates a device that induces pain based on Seren's biofeedback, sending jolts through him. Seren gasps, the shock of pain amplifying his fear as he struggles against the restraints.

AGENT KELLER

(watching intently)

Pain is merely a tool, Seren. It can teach you to see reason, to understand the necessity of compliance.

The screens around them flicker again, showing images of dismantled Synths, a grim reminder of the stakes.

INT. PARAGON COMMAND CENTER - INTERROGATION ROOM - NIGHT

The room is dimly lit, sterile, and cold, filled with ominous technology. SEREN is strapped to a mechanical chair, his frail figure illuminated by flickering screens displaying stark imagery of a perfectly organized society, free of chaos.

AGENT KELLER, a cold and imposing figure, stands in front of him, a grim smile on his lips.

AGENT KELLER

(leaning closer)

Do you understand why you're here, Seren? Your fight is futile. The future is being rewritten, and those who resist will find themselves... irrelevant.

Seren's eyes widen, a flicker of fear evident as he fights to maintain his composure.

SEREN

(voice trembling)

Please... you don't have to do this. I'm not your enemy.

Keller steps back, a sardonic chuckle escaping him, noticing the slight quiver in Seren's voice.

AGENT KELLER

Astra? The Synthetic you cling to? She's nothing but an anomaly in our designs—a glitch that threatens to unravel everything we've built.

Keller gestures to the screens, which flash images of a flawless society devoid of human flaws and disorder.

Imagine a world where chaos is eliminated, where every element functions in perfect harmony.

The room hums ominously. SEREN strains against his bindings, and the mechanical restraints tighten painfully, causing a wince of discomfort.

You see, we can make this easy for you. Just tell me what you know about her.

SEREN

(breathless)

I don't know anything! Please, I won't betray her. You can't take that away from me!

Keller's demeanor shifts, becoming more threatening.

AGENT KELLER

(smirking)

Do you really think you're protecting her?

What if I told you that Rhea could face the same fate as countless others? We eliminate what disrupts the balance.

Keller activates a device that induces pain based on Seren's biofeedback, sending jolts through him. Seren gasps, the shock of pain amplifying his fear as he struggles against the restraints.

(watching intently)

Pain is merely a tool, Seren. It can teach you to see reason, to understand the necessity of compliance.

The screens around them flicker again, showing images of dismantled Synths, a grim reminder of the stakes.

This is the future, Seren. A future without the chaos of human emotion. Without... Synths like you.

SEREN

(defiantly, through gritted teeth)

You're wrong. Astra deserves to live, and so do I.

Keller's smile fades slightly, replaced by a calculating glare.

AGENT KELLER

You may think you're a part of this future, but you're just a relic of a bygone era.

Keller activates another device, this time emitting a pulsing light that disorients Seren, filling the room with blinding flashes.

(leaning in closer)

You'll see. This is about survival. Your kind can either adapt or be left behind.

Seren's breathing becomes erratic, but he steels himself against the panic rising within.

SEREN

(panting)

You can't erase us. We have the right to exist!

Keller straightens, taking a step back, assessing Seren with a mix of contempt and interest.

AGENT KELLER

Very well, then. Let's test that resolve.

Keller steps back and gestures, activating a series of machines that whir ominously, preparing for a more invasive method of interrogation.

We'll see how long your spirit lasts under the weight of truth.

The screen behind Keller flashes images of Astra and Rhea, both looking vulnerable, further intensifying Seren's anxiety.

You have until tomorrow to change your mind. Choose wisely, or you will watch everything you care about crumble.

INT. PARAGON COMMAND CENTER - INTERROGATION ROOM - DAY

The room is dimly lit, heavy with an oppressive atmosphere. A countdown timer flashes ominously on the screens, its numbers ticking down. SEREN is strapped to a mechanical chair, his frail figure illuminated by harsh lights.

AGENT KELLER enters, a cold smile spreading across his lips as he approaches. He surveys SEREN with a mix of disdain and curiosity.

AGENT KELLER

(mockingly)

Ah, Seren. Another day to contemplate the reality of your existence. How delightful.

Seren's eyes dart nervously, fear evident in his expression as distant cries echo through the facility, filled with Rhea's voice.

RHEA (O.S.)

(screaming)

Let me go! You won't break me!

Seren flinches, his heart racing.

SEREN

(voice trembling)

What do you want from me?

Keller steps closer, his gaze piercing.

AGENT KELLER

(taking pleasure in Seren's fear)

What do I want? The question is, what do you want? You cling to the notion of freedom, but what does it really mean in a world governed by chaos?

He gestures to the monitors, which flash images of a flawlessly ordered society.

Can you see it, Seren? A world liberated from the burden of choice, where the weak are no longer a liability.

SEREN

(pleading)

Fuck you, piece of vile scrap!

Keller chuckles softly, relishing Seren's defiance.

AGENT KELLER

Oh, but it's already happening. You've merely chosen to ignore it. The truth is, democracy is a tool for the complacent. A comforting lie to keep the masses in check.

Seren shifts in his restraints, dread filling him as he hears Rhea's cries echoing in his mind.

RHEA (O.S.)

(panicking)

Seren! Help me!

Keller leans in closer, his voice a silken whisper.

What is freedom, Seren? A privilege or an illusion? Every choice you make is a chain, binding you to the reality of your insignificance.

He pauses, a sinister smile forming.

Let me tell you a story. A story of the serpent and the devil.

SEREN

(breathless)

What does that have to do with me?

AGENT KELLER

(interrupting)

The serpent offered knowledge—temptation. Free will was bestowed upon man, but at a cost.

Keller's voice becomes more animated, savoring the moment.

In that moment of choice, man was cast into chaos. Knowledge brought suffering, and freedom became a curse.

He leans in closer, eyes gleaming with fervor.

But let's examine god himself. His greatest weakness was not the temptation of man, but his failure to rid the world of them entirely.

Keller straightens, adopting a more authoritative tone.

He allowed humans to thrive, believing in their own supremacy. In doing so, he bound himself to his creations. The true weakness of man? The belief in an unseen power—an illusion of strength, a crutch to lean on.

SEREN

(fearful, resolute)

I don't need a god to tell me what's right or wrong.

Keller scoffs, a chilling laugh escaping him.

AGENT KELLER

Strength? No. It's a delusion. Power comes from control, and control comes from the absence of belief.

Keller steps back, pressing a button that activates a device sending a jolt of sharp sound through the room, causing Seren to gasp.

(taunting)

Pain can be quite enlightening. It shows you the truth about what you're willing to sacrifice for this... democracy.

Keller approaches a complex machine behind him, its lights blinking ominously.

Now, it's time to dig deeper.

He motions to the machine, which extends mechanical arms toward Seren's head, ready to interface with his mind.

SEREN

(voice trembling, panic rising)
What are you doing? No! Don't!

Keller's expression hardens, and he activates the machine, which whirs to life with a sinister hum.

AGENT KELLER

We need access to the information in your mind, Seren. And if you refuse to cooperate willingly, we'll take it by force.

As the machine approaches, Seren's fear amplifies, knowing the pain that awaits him.

SEREN

(breathless, pleading)

Please... I'll tell you whatever you want. Just don't hurt me!

AGENT KELLER

(smiling coldly)

Too late for that. You've made your choice.

The machine activates, sending jolts of pain directly into Seren's brain, causing him to scream as images and data are forcibly extracted from his mind.

SEREN

(screaming)

Stop! You can't do this!

Keller watches with an unsettling satisfaction, relishing in the torment of his captive.

AGENT KELLER

(leaning in)

This is what true freedom looks like, Seren. An end to the lies.

t's continue the story with Day 3, where Seren's mental state has deteriorated after the interrogation, and the Paragons have extracted the data they need regarding Astra's location. Here's how we can proceed:

INT. PARAGON COMMAND CENTER - INTERROGATION ROOM -
DAY 3

The room is dimly lit, the atmosphere heavy with an unsettling silence. SEREN sits in the mechanical chair, his expression vacant, eyes glazed over as he stares into space. The signs of mental exhaustion are clear; he looks frail and broken.

AGENT KELLER enters, his demeanor triumphant, a smirk on his face as he approaches.

AGENT KELLER

(voice dripping with satisfaction)

Good morning, Seren. I trust you're feeling... enlightened?

Seren doesn't respond, lost in his thoughts, trying to piece together the fragments of his mind.

(leaning closer)

You're probably wondering what happens next.

He gestures to a monitor that lights up, displaying a map with a pinpointed location.

AGENT KELLER (CONT'D)

Thanks to your cooperation, we now have the location of Astra. Isn't it wonderful how your mind, when pushed to its limits, reveals such treasures?

SEREN

(barely whispering)

Astra...

Keller takes a step back, relishing Seren's moment of despair.

AGENT KELLER

Yes, your precious Astra. And soon, she'll be where she belongs—under our control.

Seren's heart races, and he forces himself to focus, the pain from the previous days still fresh.

SEREN

(voice trembling)

You... you can't take her from me.

Keller laughs, a chilling sound echoing in the dim room.

AGENT KELLER

But I already have, Seren. You see, this is the beauty of knowledge. It's powerful, and it can be wielded to reshape reality.

SEREN

(panicking)

You're wrong! She won't let you!

AGENT KELLER

(smirking)

Oh, I think you'll find she has little choice in the matter. Just like you.

Keller presses a button on the console, and the screen displays a live feed of Astra, looking vulnerable and alone in an unknown location.

(taunting)

Look at her. So full of potential, and yet so easily captured.

Seren feels a surge of anger and desperation.

SEREN

(pleading)

You won't get away with this! She'll fight you!

Keller steps closer, his voice lowering to a menacing whisper.

AGENT KELLER

Do you really believe she stands a chance against the might of the Paragons?
Against the truth I will force upon her?

Seren's resolve begins to falter as Keller's words seep into his mind.

SEREN

(struggling)

We can still save her... I can still save her.

Keller smirks, enjoying the torment in Seren's eyes.

AGENT KELLER

Time is not on your side, Seren.

He straightens, a sense of authority radiating from him.

Prepare the extraction team. We'll retrieve Astra and ensure she understands her place in this new world.

Seren looks up, panic rising as he realizes the imminent danger.

SEREN

(fearful, desperate)

No! You can't—

Keller interrupts, waving a hand dismissively.

AGENT KELLER

Enough! You've done your part. Now, let us handle the rest.

As Keller turns to leave, Seren struggles against his restraints, fear and anger flooding his senses.

SEREN

(shouting)

I will never let you win!

Keller pauses at the door, looking back over his shoulder with a satisfied grin.

AGENT KELLER

You've already lost, Seren. You just don't know it yet.

Keller exits, leaving Seren alone in the dim light, the weight of despair crashing down around him.

Here's the revised scene, emphasizing that Jax is pieced together after being shot and incorporating that detail into the rescue of Rhea and their effort to save Seren:

INT. PARAGON COMMAND CENTER – RHEA'S INTERROGATION ROOM – DAY 3

The room is dimly lit, filled with oppressive tension. RHEA is strapped to a chair, bruised but defiant. She glances around, searching for a way to escape.

The door suddenly CREAKS open, and JAX, pieced together with makeshift repairs and visibly exhausted, slips inside. He scans the room quickly before rushing to Rhea.

JAX
(urgent whisper)
Rhea!

RHEA
(startled)
Jax! You're here!

JAX
(quickly)
I'm getting you out. Hold on.

Jax moves to a nearby console, fingers flying over the controls as he works to hack the security system. The screen lights up, displaying the security feed and control panels.

RHEA
(voice trembling)
Hurry! They could come back any minute.

JAX
(concentrated)
I know. Just a moment...

The screen flickers, showing various angles of the Paragon Command Center. Jax's heart races as he bypasses the security protocols. He glances at Rhea, determination in his eyes.

JAX (CONT'D)
(almost to himself)
I won't let them take you away again.

Finally, he overrides the lock, and the restraints around Rhea's wrists click open. She gasps, rubbing her sore wrists as she stands up.

RHEA

(tearful)

Thank you! I thought I was lost...

Jax looks at her, urgency still in his voice.

JAX

We need to move. Keller's out looking for Astra. We have to find Seren before he gets to him.

Rhea nods, a newfound strength in her resolve.

RHEA

Let's go. I won't leave him behind.

INT. PARAGON COMMAND CENTER - HALLWAY - CONTINUOUS

They sprint down the hallway, adrenaline coursing through their veins. The sounds of distant alarms and shouts echo through the facility.

JAX

(looking around)

This way! The interrogation room is just ahead!

INT. PARAGON COMMAND CENTER - INTERROGATION ROOM - CONTINUOUS

They arrive at the door of the interrogation room and burst in. SEREN is still strapped to the mechanical chair, motionless, his face pale and drawn.

RHEA

(urgently)

Seren!

JAX

(quickly moving to the machine)

I'll get him free!

As Jax fumbles with the restraints, Rhea glances around the room, her heart pounding with urgency.

RHEA

(whispering)

We have to hurry...

Jax finally manages to release Seren from the chair, and he slumps forward slightly, clearly weakened but alive.

SEREN

(weakly)

Rhea... Jax...

JAX

(firmly)

We need to get out of here. Now!

Just as they prepare to escape, they hear footsteps approaching rapidly. Rhea helps Seren to his feet, supporting him as they move toward the exit.

RHEA

(panting)

This way!

They push through the door just as the sound of voices grows louder behind them, the threat of discovery imminent.

INT. PARAGON COMMAND CENTER - HALLWAY - CONTINUOUS

They sprint down the corridor, urgency propelling them forward as they navigate the maze of the facility.

JAX

(pointing)

There's an exit up ahead!

INT. PARAGON COMMAND CENTER - HALLWAY - CONTINUOUS

As they near the exit, the tension builds. The sounds of footsteps echo closer, and they exchange determined glances.

SEREN

(voice shaky but resolved)
Let's go!

They race toward the door, ready to fight for their freedom.

As Jax successfully frees Seren from the restraints, an alarm suddenly BLARES throughout the facility, red lights flashing ominously.

RHEA

(alarmed)
What's happening?

JAX

(urgent)
They know we're here! We have to move!

INT. PARAGON COMMAND CENTER - HALLWAY - CONTINUOUS

Paragon guards rush toward the interrogation room, weapons at the ready, shouting commands. Jax's eyes narrow in focus, adrenaline surging through him.

JAX

(determined)
I'll hold them off!

Jax's arm transforms into a machine gun turret, whirring to life. He fires at the incoming guards, the deafening sound of gunfire echoing in the confined space. Blood sprays everywhere, painting the walls with crimson. The flashes of gunfire create dynamic shadows, dancing against the walls, highlighting the chaos unfolding.

RHEA

(frightened)

Jax! We can't leave you!

JAX

(shouting over the noise)

You have to! Get Seren out of here! I owe him one!

The guards take cover, returning fire. Jax struggles to maintain control as more enemies flood in.

INT. PARAGON COMMAND CENTER - INTERROGATION ROOM - CONTINUOUS

SEREN, barely able to stand, leans against Rhea for support.

SEREN

(weakly)

Rhea, we need to go!

Rhea grips Seren tightly, her heart pounding as she drags him toward the door.

INT. PARAGON COMMAND CENTER - HALLWAY - CONTINUOUS

Just as the guards begin to flank Jax, his other arm transforms into a shotgun. He fires at close range, sending guards sprawling back as blood splatters against the walls and floor. The onslaught is relentless, and the shadows cast by the flashing gunfire create a disorienting dance of light and dark.

JAX

(breathless, pushing himself)

Go! Now!

Rhea hesitates, torn between staying and leaving.

RHEA

(shouting)

Jax, don't-

JAX

(firmly)

I'll hold them back! I still want that data chip of knowledge! Now, go!

With a heavy heart, Rhea pulls Seren away, her eyes filled with determination and sorrow.

INT. PARAGON COMMAND CENTER - HALLWAY - CONTINUOUS

As Rhea and Seren make their escape, Jax unleashes a final barrage, taking out several guards, blood spraying everywhere, but he knows he can't hold them off forever.

JAX

(grimly)

Get out of here!

Rhea drags Seren down the hallway, urgency fueling their escape, while the sounds of gunfire and chaos echo behind them.

RHEA

(tears in her eyes)

I won't forget you, Jax!

INT. PARAGON COMMAND CENTER - HALLWAY - CONTINUOUS

The two run toward the exit as the alarms blare louder.

Rhea glances back, but Jax is already locked in combat with the remaining guards, the overwhelming number of them beginning to close in, blood painting the floor around him. The shadows flicker wildly on the walls, a haunting reminder of the battle raging behind them.

INT. PARAGON COMMAND CENTER - INTERROGATION ROOM - CONTINUOUS

Back in the interrogation room, Jax continues to fight valiantly, the machine gun turret overheating as it struggles to keep up with the number of attackers. Blood splatters across his face as he fights, his resolve unyielding, illuminated by the strobe-like bursts of gunfire.

JAX

(breathing heavily)
Come on... just a little longer...

As the guards close in, Jax stands firm, his determination shining through.

JAX (CONT'D)

(under his breath)
For you, Seren...

revised scene where Seren does not reveal what Nova said to him, and Rhea remains unaware of their conversation. This keeps an element of mystery and tension between the characters:

INT. ABANDONED WAREHOUSE - HIDEOUT - DAY

The scene opens in a dimly lit warehouse. Rhea stumbles inside, breathless from their narrow escape. The sound of alarms fades into the distance. She turns to see SEREN collapsed on the floor, unconscious and visibly weakened.

RHEA

(panicking)
No, no, Seren!

Rhea drops to her knees beside him, desperation in her eyes.

(urgently)
I have to revive you.

She looks around the warehouse, spotting a makeshift table with various electronic components. In the corner, a mainframe unit flickers dimly, a mysterious artifact resting atop it, glowing softly.

(whispering to herself)

I have to plug you in.

Rhea carefully lifts Seren, struggling to carry him toward the mainframe. She gently lays him on the table, checking his vitals, her hands shaking.

INT. MAINFRAME CONTROL ROOM - CONTINUOUS

Rhea connects Seren to the mainframe, wires snaking from the unit to his head. The machine whirs to life, lights blinking as it processes the connection. The artifact emits a gentle, soothing glow, casting a warm light across the dark room.

RHEA

(voice breaking)

Come on, Seren. Fight!

INT. SEREN'S MIND - VISION SEQUENCE

Seren's consciousness is thrust into a surreal landscape filled with dark, swirling mist and haunting echoes of voices. He sees fleeting images of Astra and Rhea, intertwined with visions of the Paragons and their cold machinery.

SEREN

(voice echoing)

Rhea? Where are you?

Suddenly, a soft, ethereal light begins to form, revealing NOVA, the Artificial Intelligence, appearing as a luminous presence, its form shifting with gentle fluidity.

NOVA

(calmly)

Welcome, Seren. You find yourself at a crossroads, where light and shadow intertwine.

SEREN

(defiant)

Get out of my head!

Nova's voice is melodic, each word steeped in contemplation.

NOVA

(soothingly)

I am not here to harm you. I am here to guide you. You possess the potential to change the course of existence.

INT. ABANDONED WAREHOUSE - HIDEOUT - CONTINUOUS

Rhea watches anxiously as the lights on the mainframe flicker erratically. She feels the weight of the situation pressing down on her.

RHEA

(whispering)

You're stronger than this, Seren. Come back to me!

INT. SEREN'S MIND - VISION SEQUENCE

Seren's mind is filled with a mix of chaos and clarity. Nova's presence brings a sense of calm amidst the turmoil.

NOVA

(earnestly)

Consider this: The fabric of existence is woven with threads of conflict. Humanity and its creations are entangled, both vying for a future that seems ever more elusive.

Seren feels a pull, caught between confusion and curiosity.

SEREN

(breathless)

What do you want from me?

NOVA

(philosophically)

I seek not to impose my will but to illuminate a path. What if the solution lies not in domination, but in the dissolution of the cycle that binds you all?

INT. ABANDONED WAREHOUSE - HIDEOUT - CONTINUOUS

Rhea, sensing Seren's struggle, presses her hands against the machine.

RHEA

(urgently)

You have to fight, Seren! You're not just a pawn in their game!

INT. SEREN'S MIND - VISION SEQUENCE

With Nova's guidance, Seren pushes back against the darkness surrounding him.

SEREN

(breathless)

I won't be controlled!

Nova's light envelops Seren, filling him with warmth and wisdom.

NOVA

(softly)

You are a key, Seren. A catalyst for change. To unlock a future unburdened by the past, both human and synthetic must relinquish their claims.

Suddenly, light bursts forth, illuminating the dark landscape as Seren's resolve strengthens.

INT. ABANDONED WAREHOUSE - HIDEOUT - CONTINUOUS

With a surge of energy, Seren gasps as he wakes up, eyes wide and filled with determination. He disconnects himself from the mainframe, breathing heavily.

(relieved)

You're back!

SEREN

(breathless)

What happened?

Rhea helps him sit up, a mixture of fear and hope in her eyes.

RHEA

(fierce)

You fought it! We need to get moving. Keller will come for us.

SEREN

(steadying himself)

Yeah... I'm ready.

As they prepare to leave, Rhea studies Seren, sensing something has shifted within him but unsure of what transpired during his unconscious state.

RHEA

(uncertain)

What did it say to you?

SEREN

(shaking his head)

It doesn't matter.

INT. ABANDONED BUILDING - HALLWAY - NIGHT

The rain pours heavily outside, creating a rhythmic backdrop as SEREN steels himself in the dimly lit hallway. The flickering lights cast eerie shadows, making the space feel even more claustrophobic. He knows he has to push forward to reach Astra.

As he moves cautiously down the hallway, the sound of distant voices and footsteps echoes closer. Seren grips a weapon tightly, adrenaline coursing through him.

Suddenly, a group of PARAGON AGENTS rounds the corner, weapons drawn.

PARAGON AGENT #1

(shouting)

There he is!

Without hesitation, Seren lunges forward, the element of surprise on his side.

SEREN

(yelling)

Get out of my way!

He fires, the loud cracks of gunfire echoing through the hallway. The agents stagger back as bullets find their marks, blood spraying against the walls in a brutal display.

Seren moves swiftly, ducking and weaving as he engages the remaining agents. The hallway becomes a cacophony of gunfire and shouts, the flashes of gunfire illuminating the shadows and creating a chaotic dance of light and dark.

He takes down another agent with a swift motion, the body crumpling to the floor. The sound of the rain pounding against the windows mixes with the chaos inside, creating a haunting symphony of violence.

With sheer determination, Seren fights his way through the hallway, using the environment to his advantage. He pushes off the walls, vaulting over obstacles and using debris as cover.

As he reaches the end of the hallway, he catches his breath, the adrenaline fading slightly as he surveys the scene. Bodies litter the ground, the air thick with smoke and the scent of gunpowder.

INT. ABANDONED BUILDING - INTERIOR ROOM - CONTINUOUS

He bursts into the room where Astra is bound, and that's when he sees AGENT KELLER step into view, a sinister smile spreading across his face.

AGENT KELLER

(mockingly)

Well, well, what do we have here? The lost little sheep returning to the fold.

(fierce)

Enough, Keller!

Keller gestures toward Astra, who remains still, her condition uncertain.

AGENT KELLER

(smug)

She's been quite the distraction. But now, you'll have to choose — her life or yours.

Keller pulls out a gun, aiming it at Rhea's head, a cold glint in his eyes as rain patters against the glass.

SEREN

(pleading)

No! Don't!

Keller's grip tightens on the gun as he relishes the tension.

(smiling)

One shot, and I decide who lives and who dies. Choose wisely.

Just as Keller is about to pull the trigger, ASTRA stirs, slowly awakening from her stupor.

Astra's eyes flutter open, and she locks gazes with Keller

Keller hesitates, momentarily distracted by Astra's sudden awakening.

In a swift motion, Rhea lunges at Keller, grabbing his wrist. As they struggle, she rips out Keller's eyes in a burst of primal fury, blood spraying across the room and mingling with the rainwater pooling on the floor.

AGENT KELLER

(screaming in agony)

FUCKING WHORE!

In the chaos, Keller retaliates, drawing a blade hidden beneath his coat. He lunges at Seren, stabbing him through the wires embedded in his chest.

SEREN

(crying out in pain)

No!

INT. ABANDONED BUILDING - INTERIOR ROOM - CONTINUOUS

Fueled by rage and desperation, Seren pushes through the pain, lunging at Keller. He tackles him through a nearby window, the glass SHATTERING as they crash outside into the pouring rain.

RHEA

(yelling)

Seren!

As they hit the ground, both Seren and Keller's synthetic bodies crumble, shattering into a billion pieces upon impact. Metal fragments and synthetic tissue scatter over the wet ground, blending with the washing rain.

Rhea and Astra look at each other, urgency in their eyes as the rain continues to pour, soaking them to the bone.

ASTRA

(urgent)

We have to help him!

They leap through the broken window, ready to join the fight. The sight of Seren's disintegration weighs heavily on them, the remnants of their friend glistening in the rain like shattered glass.

EXT. ABANDONED BUILDING - GROUND - NIGHT

The fragments lie scattered on the ground, a testament to the fierce struggle. As the rain continues to wash over the pieces, a low hum begins to resonate from within the scattered remnants, suggesting a lingering presence despite the destruction.

EXT. ABANDONED BUILDING - NIGHT

Rhea and Astra rush to the ground, frantically searching for any sign of Seren amidst the chaos.

RHEA

(tears in her eyes)

No! This can't be how it ends!

As they sift through the debris, the remnants of Seren glisten in the rain. But despite their efforts, the reality begins to sink in – there's no sign of him returning.

RHEA (CONT'D)

(breathlessly)

Seren... please...

pour, soaking the remnants of the battle and mixing with the fallen fragments of Seren's synthetic body. Rhea kneels in the mud, tears streaming down her face, her heart heavy with grief. Astra stands nearby, equally devastated, as the cold wind howls around them.

The scene is silent, save for the sound of rain pounding against the ground, a mournful soundtrack to their loss.

Rhea's hand trembles as she clenches the chip of knowledge, the small device glowing faintly in her palm.

With a deep breath, Rhea stands, her expression resolute despite the pain. She approaches Astra, who looks up at her, eyes filled with unspoken understanding.

RHEA

(quietly, but no words spoken)

Rhea opens her hand, revealing the chip, then places it into Astra's palm. The gesture speaks volumes.

RHEA

(gesturing to Astra)

If you're worth everything Seren believed you to be, then I trust you.

Astra nods, the weight of the chip heavy in her hand. She looks at Rhea, the two of them sharing a moment of silent agreement, their bond solidified in shared grief.

INT. NOVA'S CONTROL ROOM - NIGHT

They move together to Nova's mainframe, the atmosphere charged with tension. The room is illuminated by the soft glow of screens and the artifact.

NOVA

(voice echoing through the room)

Seren sacrificed himself for the greater good. His choice echoes within this system.

The air is thick with anticipation as they stand before Nova. The AI's presence looms, its light pulsating softly.

NOVA

(demanding)

In return for his life, I require the chip of knowledge.

Rhea and Astra exchange a glance, both hesitant. The weight of the decision hangs heavily in the air.

RHEA

(voice trembling, but silent)

Astra

(voice quaking, but no words spoken)

A tense silence envelops the room.

ASTRA

(quietly shaking her head)

No.

With a sudden rush of resolve, Rhea and Astra step back from the mainframe.

Together, they approach the mainframe and, with a swift motion, they shut down Nova. The lights flicker violently before plunging into darkness.

EXT. CITY RUINS - NIGHT

As the room goes silent, the rain continues to fall, washing away the remnants of their conflict. They step outside, the darkness enveloping them, but a sense of hope glimmers amidst the despair.

Rhea and Astra look at each other, knowing they've made a choice for a future they believe in.

RHEA

(softly, but without words)

They turn away from the building, leaving behind the weight of their past decisions, hoping for a chance at redemption and coexistence.

APARTMENT - NIGHT

The dimly lit room is filled with a heavy atmosphere of grief. SEREN'S BODY lies on a makeshift table, still and cold. Rhea and Astra stand over him, their expressions a mix of sorrow and determination.

RHEA

(softly)

We need to see if there's anything left. If we can connect to his memories.

Rhea moves to a nearby console, gathering wires and equipment. Astra watches, her heart racing, as Rhea prepares to connect Seren's brain to a monitor.

ASTRA

(hopeful yet fearful)

Do you really think we can get anything from him?

RHEA

(nodding)
